About Debian   Getting Debian   Support   Developers' Corner

/ debian logos

Debian logos

Debian has two logos. The official logo (also known as "open use logo") contains the well-known Debian "swirl" and best represents the visual identity of the Debian Project. A separate, restricted-use logo, also exists for use by the Debian Project and its members only. To refer to Debian, please prefer the open use logo.

Debian Open Use Logo

The Debian Open Use Logo comes in two flavors, with and without "Debian" label.

The Debian Open Use Logo(s) are Copyright (c) 1999 Software in the Public Interest, Inc., and are released under the terms of the GNU Lesser General Public License, version 3 or any later version, or, at your option, of the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported License.

Note: we would appreciate that you make the image a link to https://www.debian.org/ if you use it on a web page.

With ``Debian''	Without ``Debian''
JPEG 100x123 - 8k	JPEG 101x124 - 8k
PNG 100x123 - 2k	PNG 101x124 - 2k
JPEG 75x92 - 6k	JPEG 75x92 - 5k
PNG 75x92 - 1k	PNG 75x92 - 1k
JPEG 50x61 - 4k	JPEG 50x61 - 4k
PNG 50x61 - 1k	PNG 50x61 - 1k
JPEG 25x30 - 2k	JPEG 25x30 - 2k
PNG 25x30 - 1k	PNG 25x30 - 1k
Gimp - 83k	Gimp - 64k
SVG - 11k	SVG - 7k
Encapsulated PostScript - 11k	Encapsulated PostScript - 7k
PDF - 5k	PDF - 3k